Round 2 Results Report

Prepared for Capricorn. 2026-05-27. 20 qualified companies found across Switzerland, Romania, and Greece.

1. Summary

This round adds 20 new qualified companies to your pipeline. They cover the three countries Round 1 missed (Switzerland, Romania, Greece) plus extra Greek leads on top of the one you already had. The list is shorter than Round 1, and that is on purpose. After your feedback, the system now drops companies that look right on paper but are wrong for your sales motion (agrochemicals, ingredient suppliers, ultra-premium brands, direct competitors, and so on). So fewer companies pass the filter, but the ones that do should be closer to a real fit.

2. What changed since Round 1

You told us last round that about 40 percent of the leads were not real targets. Examples were Timac Agro and Valagro (agrochemicals, wrong supply chain), Lush and Dr. Barbara Sturm (only sell their own brand), Sharon Personal Care (ingredient supplier, not finished goods), and N.R. Spuntech (your direct competitor in wipes).

We turned your feedback into a playbook. Every new company is now read through that playbook by a senior-BDR layer that asks the same questions you would ask: is the company in the right supply chain, do they actually buy from third parties, do they have a customer base they can resell to, are they on the named-competitor list. For each company that passes, the same layer also pre-fills the answer to what could Capricorn sell them using your real catalog. So you no longer need to think about that field, it is filled in for every lead.

We also rewrote the agriculture keywords to look for your actual products (agrotextiles, mulch film, anti-hail nets, drip irrigation, grow bags, layflat hose) instead of generic "agriculture", which last round pulled in agrochemical companies.

3. Results: 20 qualified companies

Tier 1 means the BDR layer was confident this is a real buying motion that fits Capricorn. Tier 2 means there is a real opportunity but with a soft caveat (slower cycle, smaller volume, or the buying motion is implied not stated). Tier 3 means the company is acknowledged but not a priority. Deal prob is the BDR layer's honest read of how likely a 6-month deal is. Use it to sort within a tier.

Every lead also has an honest one-sentence reason from the BDR layer in the lead file (column judge_reason). Most companies have one or two contacts. The full list, with email and LinkedIn for every person, is in the lead file that comes with this report.

4. How well the system matches your judgment

We graded the new BDR layer against your Round 1 feedback as a test set. 19 of 22 testable companies agreed with your call (86 percent). All 11 companies you marked NO RELEVANTE in Round 1 are now correctly rejected. All 6 tier-3 cases you marked are correctly identified. Tier-1 precision on the test set is 100 percent (no false tier-1s). The three remaining disagreements are one tier off, on borderline cases (Naue and Nice-Pak demoted to T2, Pharma Cosmetics softened from reject to T3).

Honest caveat: the test set is small (n=22) and we tuned the playbook against it, so the real number on fresh companies will be a bit lower. The Round 2 leads above are the first test of the system on companies it has never seen.

5. Coverage and data quality

By country: Greece 10, Romania 6, Switzerland 4. All three countries had no leads before this round. By product area: Foodservice Disposables 7, Membranes and Geotextiles 7, Cleaning Supplies 3, Pet Food 1, Agriculture 1. By tier: 4 Tier 1, 5 Tier 2, 11 Tier 3.

Of the 20 companies: 11 have a confirmed business email, 3 have a LinkedIn-only contact (Ecocraft Commercial Director, Armos Operations Manager, Swiss Pet Solution sales-service team lead, all worth a LinkedIn message), and 6 have no contact at all in Explorium (TAKA-TAKA and Skyplast had only off-country false matches, and were dropped). The no-contact rows still give you the company, website, score, and what to sell, so you can search by hand for a buyer.

3 contacts have a catch-all email status (Minet, Sakos, Daios). The domain accepts mail but the exact mailbox is not confirmed. Worth testing first with a low-stakes message.

SCHOELLKOPF (Switzerland T1) gives you both the Managing Director and the Head of Geosynthetics with valid emails, so you can choose which level to start at.

6. Costs

This round used about 109 Explorium credits (52 for company enrichment, 57 for the 21 contact enrichments across two passes) plus 28 cents of Anthropic API for the BDR judgment layer. Total under one dollar plus the credits, versus about 143 credits in Round 1.
